Re: 6660 Orchard Station Road, Sebastopol
Subject: Roof inspection
From: Jim Garman

It has come to our attention that our men did not roll back or cut the felt underlayment to expose the substrate for the inspector to view. We apologize for our supervisor not being on the job site, as he had to run down to the material house at the time the inspector visited the job site.

The roof we removed was a 12-year-old Elk 25 year factory warranted shingle that had failed. The existing plywood substrate showed no signs of deterioration or rot and was in sound condition. We are quite familiar with the residence and its construction as we were the installers of the failed Elk shingle.

Should this situation occur in the future, our men would roll or cut back the underlayment, however, in the absence of our supervisor, a request from the inspector may be required.

Thank you for your concern and immediate attention.
