Special inspection report

re shear walls with nail spacing four inch or less.

This requirement applies to walls on grid lines A & B south and north walls including anchors in concrete, sheathing and nailing and uplift and lateral load path from roof down to foundation

I, Michael Hallett, architect and structural designer for this project, have examined the work of the above items and found all work to be in accord with the approved construction documents.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Michael Hallett", written over a horizontal line.
